Allison Meharg is a 4-H and Small Farms Extension Agent in Escambia County, Fl. She has worked with farmers in West Florida training them on developing food safety plans and helping them prepare for third party audit. Allison won a national award from FACAA for this work.

Bob Hochmuth has worked as an Extension agent for 31 years, 25 of them in Florida. Bob has served as an agent specializing in commercial vegetables and small farms.

Kiley Harper-Larsen is a regional business development specialist with Primus Labs. She is also a farmer in South Florida and understands farmer’s needs as it relates to food safety. Kiley has managed a food safety program for a large commercial farm and has also served as an Extension Agent in Florida.