Erin Vermillion is currently the Farm Loan Manager that oversees the USDA’s Farm Loan Programs in ten Central Florida counties. I have been with the Agency for 11 years. Prior to that I studied at the University of Florida, where I earned a BS in Animal Science, and North Carolina State University, where I earned a Master of Extension Education.

Marcus Boone is the Chief Lending Officer at Farm Credit of Florida. Marcus has over 30 years of experience within the Farm Credit System and is highly experienced in Agricultural lending. He has a strong background in loan structuring, agronomics, and agribusiness, which makes him a great source of knowledge in regards to financing solutions for Agricultural operations.

Candace Pollock is public relations coordinator for the Southern region SARE program, based at the University of Georgia in Griffin, GA. She has been part of SARE for nearly 3 years. Candace moved to the South from Ohio, where she worked at Ohio State University for 10 years as a communications specialist for the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences. She holds a Bachelor’s degree in journalism and biology and a Master's degree in agricultural communications.

Jonathan Morris is a third generation that farms fifty+ acres in Sanford and Lake Mary, Fl. He, his wife Amy and eight children all farm as a family and sell their vegetables at local markets and grocery stores. Donations from the farm go to multiple schools and city functions to remind folks where their food comes from. He believes strongly in community supporting each other.