

If you still have not booked airport transportation to the Naples Grande:

ACES 2008 Conference: Please note that the company currently listed on the ACES 2008 conference website (Alligator Alley Transportation) is no longer taking reservations. They are full during the peak times. Please see information below regarding alternate transportation suggestions.

If you have already submitted an online reservation or left a message with Alligator Alley and have not heard back with a confirmation number at this point:

We recommend making alternate arrangements to guarantee yourself transportation. We have been getting multiple emails today with this same problem and it seems that Alligator Alley has taken a maximum number of reservations and they cannot keep up with our volume and are maxed out on their reservation allotment.

Overflow Company--Dolphin Transportation: We have just made alternate arrangements with Dolphin Transportation. They are a very professional company and are the Naples Grande recommended choice for transportation. They have 24 hour operation.
