49,000 students
4250 faculty
16 Colleges
  - College of Agricultural & Life Sciences
24 Undergraduate Majors
   - Food Science & Human Nutrition Department
     - Food Science
     - Nutritional Sciences
     - Dietetics

22 Graduate Programs
   - MS and PhD
3725 undergraduates
  - 630 undergraduates in FSHN
1050 graduates
  - 75 graduate students in FSHN and NS
A federal-state-county partnership
26 on-campus academic departments and schools (CALS)
12 off-campus Research and Education Centers (RECs)
UF/IFAS Extension offices in all 67 counties
4 Research and Demonstration sites, 1 research forest, and 1 biological field station
860 faculty on and off campus, state and grant supported
300 county faculty associated with the Cooperative Extension Service
Food Science:
- 100 undergraduates
- 24 MS
- 13 PhD

Nutritional Sciences
- 450 undergraduates
- 8 MS
- 22 PhD

Dietetics
- 100 undergraduates
- 12 MS-DI
FSHN Open House

- Tour of the facilities
- Research focus of individuals
The International Alliance for Functional Food Research, Education and Extension (IAFFREE)
Drs. Gu (PI), Baker, Dahl, Percival & Yang
France, Brazil, China and Mexico
September 13th before the Kentucky game
Food Science
- Food Chemistry
- Flavor Chemistry
- Functional Foods & Nutraceuticals
- Fats & Oils
- Product Development
- Food Safety
- Food Engineering
- Microbiology

Nutritional Sciences
- Molecular Nutrition
- Metabolomics and Genomics
- Micronutrients
- Pre- and pro- biotics
- Functional Foods & Nutraceuticals
- Immunity
- Eating behavior
- Obesity & Energy/Metabolism
Award winning teachers

On campus live classes

Distance education
  - Food Safety Certificate
International Juice and Beverage Conference
Food safety
  - HACCP, GAP & GMP Training
Nutrition of the frail elderly
Product development
Small businesses entrepreneurship
Friends & Alumni

Friends of FSHN

- External Advisory Committee
- Alumni events
- Horizon Award (3 in 10 years)
The mission of the Food Science & Human Nutrition Department is to provide progressive and effective programs in teaching, research, and extension which meet the needs of the citizens of Florida, and benefit the nation. This mission is accomplished by faculty and staff through resident and distant instruction, research and education.